ICON's Tactical Allocation Portfolios (ITAP) are geared toward taking advantage of opportunities in an actively moving market, rotating in and out of investments based on systematic valuations as determined by the ICON valuation methodology. We employ an active, tactical, industry-rotation process that tilts our portfolios to undervalued areas of the market in an attempt to outperform passive investments and capture those market themes.

About the Portfolio

We believe the primary key to successful investing in the U.S. stock market is tied directly to sector rotation and timely industry rotation within each sector.

The Global Moderate Portfolio strives to increase the value of your account through a rise in the market price of securities or NAV of funds (capital appreciation) and to a lesser extent, providing income from investment assets invested in U.S. diversified and sector, bond, and international mutual funds. The proportions of equity and fixed-income assets will vary through time, although the Portfolio will generally invest a greater portion of assets in equity investments than ICON's Global Conservative Portfolio would.

¹Allocations are based on the most recent New Money Target report and fund holdings as of the most recent quarter-end. Cash & Cash Equivalents data is based on the aggregate of the cash position in the Portfolio and any cash positions in the underlying mutual funds. All fund holdings data is an estimate based on the most recent quarter end positions. Other Assets and Liability figures within each Fund are not separately reported but are not included in the Funds' Net Asset Value.

Important Information

ICON Advisers, Inc. ("ICON") is a registered investment adviser incorporated in 1991. ICON uses a disciplined, objective, non-emotional methodology to identify industries and sectors that our methodology suggests are underpriced relative to our calculation of intrinsic value. ICON utilizes sector and industry rotation to invest in U.S. and foreign securities of any market capitalization. ICON offers its disciplined, objective, non-emotional methodology across a wide range of portfolio solutions, including tactical fund allocation portfolios, diversified and sector mutual funds, as well as diversified and concentrated separate accounts.

Investing in securities involves inherent risks, including the risk that you can lose the value of your investment. There is no assurance that the investment process will consistently lead to successful results. Investments in international securities may entail unique risks, including political, market, regulatory and currency risks. Financial statements of foreign companies are governed by different accounting, auditing, and financial standards than U.S. companies and may be less transparent and uniform than in the United States. Many corporate governance standards, which help ensure the integrity of public information in the United States, do not exist in foreign countries. In general, there is less governmental supervision of foreign stock exchanges and securities brokers and issuers. The risks of investing in international securities are greater for investments in emerging markets. Emerging market countries may experience greater social, economic, regulatory, and potential volatility and uncertainty than more developed countries. An investment concentrated in sectors and industries may involve greater risk and volatility than a more diversified investment, and the Technology sector has been among the most volatile sectors in the market. Call options involve certain risks, such as limited gains and lack of liquidity of the underlying securities, and are not suitable for all investors. Investing in fixed income securities such as bonds involves interest rate risk. When interest rates rise, the value of fixed income securities generally decreases. High-yield bonds involve a greater risk of default and price volatility than U.S. Government and other higher-quality bonds. There are risks associated with Small and Mid Cap investing such as less liquidity, limited product lines, and small market share.

Portfolio composition and holdings are subject to change at any time and should not be construed as a recommendation of any security. Individual account holdings and composition may vary. Opinions and forecasts regarding sectors, industries, companies, countries and/or themes, and portfolio composition and holdings, are all subject to change at any time, based on market and other conditions, and should not be construed as a recommendation of any specific security, industry, or sector.

ICON claims compliance with the Global Investment Performance Standards (GIPS®). The periods prior to January 1, 1995 have not been verified. Additional information regarding ICON's policies for calculating and reporting returns is available upon request. Returns are calculated in U.S. dollars. The Portfolios do not utilize leverage or derivatives, although ICON may invest in mutual funds that utilize these tactics.

ICON's value-based investing model is an analytical, quantitative approach to investing that employs various factors, including projected earnings growth estimates and bond yields, in an effort to determine whether securities are over- or underpriced relative to ICON's estimates of their intrinsic value. ICON's value approach involves forward-looking statements and assumptions based on judgments and projections that are neither predictive nor guarantees of future results. Value readings are contingent on several variables including, without limitation, earnings, growth estimates, interest rates and overall market conditions. Although valuation readings serve as guidelines for our investment decisions, we retain the discretion to buy and sell securities that fall beyond these guidelines as needed. Value investing involves risks and uncertainties and does not guarantee better performance or lower costs than other investment methodologies.

Total returns for the unmanaged indexes include the reinvestment of dividends and capital gain distributions but do not reflect deductions for commissions, management fees, and expenses. The indexes are not covered by the report of independent accountants. The Portfolio's composition may differ significantly from the index. Individuals cannot invest directly in an index.
